How a cell decides what to render

The value-cell render path is `renderCellValue(monthKey)` in `GridRow.tsx:2552`. States are evaluated in strict precedence — the first match wins:

Conditional formatting, selection, focus and hover are overlays — they layer on top of whichever base state above is active, rather than replacing it.

1 Cell States

Sixteen distinct rendering states. Each is shown below as it appears in-grid, with its trigger condition and defining styles.

Editability gate (GridRow.tsx:3627): a cell is editable only when `onCellChange` is set AND it is not locked, not a read-only measure, not an adjustment-group cell, not a filter-summary, not plan-review-locked and not pending-approval-locked.
